

HOW DOES IT WORKS

First impression is everything and even more so for businesses.

The corporate headshots/group photos/product shots we create are conceptualised according to your business branding criteria. The headshot may seem basic at first though creating corporate headshots that communicate your staff individual personality and values of the company is a sophisticated challenge.

How does it work. Well, first we'll discuss your requirements during initial free consultation, next thing we try a few different ideas such as different set ups with different background and will try different posing techniques and outfits. And if you're unsure about having your photo taken, don't worry, because I'll be guiding and coaching you through while looking for and capturing what I believe works best for you.

After the shoot we'll go through all your images and select the best ones. Each and any image chosen then gets finished off with some gentle retouching and standard post-processing techniques. They are then provided to you via digital download as hi-res, web-ready digital files. If, for any reason, you're unable to choose your shots on the day I will create a personal online proofing gallery from where you can make your final choices.

Our Photography services include:

- a pre-shoot consultation/chat to discuss your shoot;
- the photoshoot
- a few clothing changes for Portraits (to create different looks & to have options);
- post-shoot image viewing;
- personal online proofing gallery;
- your selected images edited & provided as hi-res, web-ready digital files.

To find out more simply get in touch for discussion and planning - How do you want the world to see you?